OUR NORTH CAROLINA CORRESPONDENCE.

CARTER'S MILL GOLD REGION, Moore Co., N. C., April 10, 1867.

Deeming the columns of your valuable paper the true channel through which the mineral interest of our overlooked mining territory can be called to the attention of the public, I shall attempt to give you the outlines of a few mines in this immediate locality which, for the want of enterprise and energy alone has been suffered to lie sadly in the background. This gold belt lies adjoining the noted coal fields of Chatham—in fact runs into it. In its geographical position it occupies an aboro, inclining to the nearest point of the Atlantic coast, is the widest part of that grand gold belt and that breaks out in the Counties south of the Potomac in Virginia running from the County of Fairfax southwest to the North Carolina line through the Counties of Granville, Davidson, Randolph, Moore, Montgomery, Stanley, Rowan, Cabarrus, Mecklenburg, Union and Anson, passing on through South Carolina, Georgia, and finally disappearing on the Coosa River, Alabama. The talcose slate is the prevailing gold-bearing rock, although rich leads of quartz have been found, generally of a soft, yielding, granular kind.

SHIELDS MINE.

The first gold discoveries that were made in this section were about the year 1840, on a track of land afterwards known as the Shields mine, which was confined entirely to placer diggings, carried on in the rudest manner, which yielded a most handsome profit to the miners. The gold-bearing alluvium consisted of beds of gravel, mixed with an ash colored sillicate, and pale blue and yellow clay, encasing a thickness from two to four feet in depth. Large sized nuggets often cheered the miner in his work; the largest one known to have been found weighed 5 1-2 lbs, avoirdupois. So remunerative were these washings that every branch and gulch was completely gutted within a few years after its discovery.

THE CAGLE MINE.

The attention of the miners was then turned to searching for a vein. The outcropping of a very rich ore was discovered on an adjoining tract of land belonging to Mr. John Cagle, which proved to be of the true fissure class, well defined in every respect, varying from two to five feet wide, the gangrene rock being of a talcose character, also intervals on the vein giving a granular quartz, melting to almost an impalpable paste upon the application of water, which was always regarded as the most auriferous. The vein varied from two to three feet wide. Leases were given by the proprietor on the north end of the vein to different parties for short terms, whose limited time for working and hastily improvised mode, leaves that part of the vein in a sad condition for future operations. The yield was, however, splendid, giving from $8 to $20 per ton. The operations were here stopped, any further leases being refused. The lead on this property can be clearly traced for over 3,000 feet, the greater portion of which yet lies in its virgin state. There are parties here now preparing to work this lead, which with the fine facilities of water power near at hand turned to proper account, should be attended with the fine facilities of water power near at hand turned to proper account, should be attended with the most gratifying results. From the matrix yielding its gold so freely, under the ordinary ore-dressing machinery would give it 20 per cent. advantage over most ores of the same value of a more refractory nature.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

About 2,000 feet west of this lead a continuation of the same hills, rising to a mountain like elevation, is the Mt. Pleasant Hill, that overlooks the waters of Cabin Creek. Another valuable lode here appears in bold outcroppings along a ledge of talcose slate running northeast by southwest, traceable for a distance of 2,500 feet. This has been cut and rudely worked in several places, showing a vein from 3 to 6 feet in width, of a soft friable talcose slate, and the country of the same character but of a tougher texture. The facilities for working the ores from this hill are unsurpassed by any locality I ever saw. The western slope of the hill is coursed by Cabin Creek, a splendid stream of running water, affording water power of sufficient capacity to run the most ponderous machinery. Just at the base of the hill is located an excellent mill site upon which a single Chilean mill runs its slow revolutions upon the valuable and inexhaustible contents of the ledges above. From this point it would at once suggest itself to the miner to drive a tunnel from the mill above and thus cut the ledge at no great distance, teaming the hidden treasures of the mountain into the reduction works beneath, at a great saving of the labor and cost that usually attend working from shafts. The gold from this hill contains a considerable per cent. of silver. This hill covers an area of 20 acres.

THE MOODY HILL.

There is another elevation just to the South of this hill, beyond a rapid little cascade that breaks out from the hills above, the eye is arrested by some rude excavations on its sides, or what miner more properly term "gougings." This hill is known as the Moody Hill, and as far as explored presents a solid mass of ores lying in irregular slate cleavage, traversed by auriferous seams of quartz, which at once places the miners "in luck." The average yield as far as tested is from $7 to $12 per ton, although tons could be selected that would surprise an old Californian. Reduction works of an extensive capacity could well calculate to a safe and highly remunerative business at this point. This hill covers an area of 10 acres. The entire surface all gives gold, which would doubtless give a field for the successful play of the hydraulic process of mining.

THE BROWN HILL.

About half a mile from the Mt. Pleasant Hill, up Cabin Creek, another lofty elevation lifts itself from the banks of this stream, known as the Brown Hill. Here a recent discovery of gold was made which will place it in high estimation among mining men. It, like the Moody Hill, consists of a mass of ores of a soft, dark, gray, clay slate of the reticulated formation. The entire area of the hill seems to present an enormous mass of ore so soft that a pick would cleave up to the eye every blow. Its average yield is from $5 to $12 per ton. The surface all over pans lively for gold, betokening treasures of untold wealth reposing beneath. The facilities here, too, for water power, are of the rarest kind. An excellent mill-site could be got where Cabin Creek courses the western sides of the hill, which stream here gives a volume of water of sufficient power to run machinery of the highest capacity. This tract consists of some 140 acres. With the vast amount of ores in these almost virgin hills, which with the facilities mentioned, under proper guidance, could be worked with a most telling effect, numerous other placer diggings in this locality would indicate yet to be found as rich mines as any already opened. One point on this fine water power is now being turned to account by Messrs. Rea & Richardson, for the reduction of ores, to be taken from two lodes near at hand. Their mills will be running in a few weeks. Other enterprises will find ample room. Twenty-five miles is the nearest railroad point at present, though there is one now in progress that will run within twelve miles of this point. We want to see our prostrate country prosper, and we feel satisfied that if the precious metals of this section were properly reached, that end would soon be attained.

ASTROLOGY.

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secresy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

PARTIES—OUR DUTY.

For some time prior to the war, such were the dangers which imperilled the country, placed as it was in imminent jeopardy by the fell spirit of party, we could see no necessity for party. During the war we took the same position, always opposing factionists and ultraists, as disturbers of the public quiet. Since the war we have had no other party affiliations, except those which allied us to individuals who desired peace and Union, and who cultivated conservatism. This is our position still. We see no good cause to change our position, but every day the events which are passing, confirm us in this course. What the country needs is patriotism not party—statesmanship not politics—peace and quiet, not agitation and turmoil.

We have bad but one aim in our public course and that is the good of the whole country in general, and of our section in particular. We desire no promotion or office or emolument beyond the legitimate rewards of labor. We seek neither the promotion of this man or the other, from personal or partizan motives, but we are ready to promote good men for the good of the country. We will support no bad man if we know it, no factionist, no ultraist, no disturber of the public quiet, no one who seeks to divide society and array one class against the other, no mere demagogue or politician, no agrarian, no leveller, no enemy to sound morals, no opposer of christianity, and no enemy of the Union and a just and speedy settlement of the difficulties of the nation. These are our politics. We have no other. Hence we oppose party organization, party machinery and party feeling.

What interest have the Southern people in the parties which divide the Northern people? We have no voice in National affairs; we are denied all part in Israel; we are treated still as aliens and enemies; why desire party affiliation with a Northern party at such a time? Our people, black and white, should wash their hands of party and have nothing to do with it. To seek affiliation with party now, and especially with the dominant party, strikes every one as sycophantic and hypocritical. Every one knows that the affiliation of any Southern man with Radical Republicanism, is arrant hypocrisy and cowardice. No one has any confidence in the so-called Southern Loyalists. In principle they have always been ultra, disturbers of the peace, and mere seekers of office. Personal gain and promotion is all they seek. The good of the country and of the people are things about which they are indifferent.

What then should be the course of our people? If the Reconstruction Acts of Congress are not materially changed or modified by the session in July, every man entitled to vote, should by all means register as a voter. He should put himself in a position to help the country and promote its welfare, if possible. In all elections he should vote, but only for honest, good men. We say emphatically to the people in every County of the State, in all cases of election, where there is any prospect of electing an honest, sound, conservative man, do so by all means. Of course, we mean only, men eligible and worthy of the office. Where it is impossible to combine the vote of the conservative men to elect an honest, true conservative candidate in any County, the next best thing you can do, is to vote for an honest, true man, who is known to be a moderate Republican in sentiment, to defeat a Radical. Never record your vote for an ultraist or Radical for anything. But don't be indifferent. Neglect not your duty to the country. Indifference is ruin—it is death to your country.

TRUTH, CRUSHED, WILL RISE.

The New York Tribune and Washington Chronicle, together with other influential journals, are advocating the re-assembling of Congress.

We call attention to one fact. The issue is between the Military Commanders of the Districts, and the rebel Provisional State governments, the former being backed by Congress and the Republican party, the latter by the President and his faction. Had Congress wiped out these organizations, when the Southern Unionists appealed to them to do so last winter, which appeal is still continued, there would have been no trouble now in Louisiana or elsewhere. We trust that the error may be corrected in July next. Republican reconstruction is scarcely possible when rebel organizations are tolerated by Congress itself, and a premium thus offered to disloyality. Will Congress still persist in handling treason with kid gloves and sprinkling it with otto of roses when it assembles in July?—Standard.

The above precious, very prudent, mild and loving article we copy from the last Standard. There is no controversy between the present State governments and the District Commanders. The whole muss originates in a simple legal inquiry made by the Attorney General, at the instance of some of the Commanders themselves, through the President. But we must hush or some very tender soul will say we are quarreling with and abusing the Standard.—Sentinel.

RIOTS IN ENGLAND.

Serious disturbances and excitement exist in England among the friends and enemies of reform. In Birmingham a most serious riot has occurred. Considerable destruction of property has occurred, and at last accounts the rioters had possession of the city, and the government had sent bodies of troops to suppress it at all hazards.

The last speech made by General Grant was made at Wheeling, Va., the other day, when he said, "Gentlemen—I hope you [illegible] long."

THE GRAND JURY OF THE CIRCUIT COURT.

No one can over-estimate the delicacy of the responsibility of a Grand Jury. It is the grand inquest and guardian of the public morals and the public peace. The oath of a Grand Juryman is a most awful assumption. None but true men can discharge it.

We do not know but two names upon the late Grand Jury, but we are assured that no Jury ever felt its responsibility more or were more careful and conscientious in the discharge of their duty. Intimations have been made, as we believe very unjustly, reflecting upon the motives of the Jury in making presentments of the case of the District Attorney, Mr. Starbuck, and others.—These intimations are unjust and unbecoming, unless the parties know that the Grand Jury acted in bad faith, and from insufficient or incorrect evidence, which they had in their power to correct. It is well known that the public mind has been strongly affected towards persons who have taken this oath, when it was not patent to the public that their entire conduct during the whole war, was perfectly consistent as Union men.

However well known Mr. Starbuck was as a Union man, and however conscientious those who knew him well believed him to be, yet, it is well known that the simple fact that Mr. Starbuck was a member of the Secession Convention, though he became a member of it at a late period, and however justifiable to his own conscience and that of his friends, in consenting to serve, and however pure, as a Union man, his motives were in what he did in the Convention and during the war, yet, we say, that fact always prejudiced Mr. Starbuck in the public mind after he took that oath. It will be borne in mind that no such prejudice affected B. F. Moore, Esq., because he consented to become a member of the Board of Claims, nor Gov. Worth, who positively refused to become a member of that Convention, though he afterwards consented to serve the State as its Public Treasurer, yet, if either or both of them were now to take the "test oath," who doubts but it would affect them in public estimation, although no one could doubt the conscientiousness of either of them or of Mr. Starbuck.

It is, therefore, plain, if a man would avoid the suspicions and prejudices of the public, he must not only act conscientiously as to himself, but he owes it to the public, to avoid even the appearance of evil. So far as Mr. Starbuck is concerned, it is likely that the investigation which he sought in this case, will do more to relieve him of public prejudice on this subject, than anything which could have occurred. We do not know what facts the Grand Jury had before them, or how they arrived at the conclusion that Mr. Starbuck had violated the law of perjury, but our object in the foregoing remarks, is simply to exculpate them from any suspicion of bad faith or improper motive in making the presentments they did.

WILL CONGRESS MEET IN JULY?

We think it will. The Radical runners are out and all earth and water will be traversed, if need be, to bring in the faithful on the 4th. of July. Many prefer to stay at home, but the indications are that there will be a quorum on the 4th. Meanwhile we trust the "sober-second thought" will quiet the excitement which several Radical sheets are seeking to create out of Mr. Stanbery's opinion. The intimation that the President seeks to trammel the progress of reconstruction, has no foundation. His late action proves emphatically, that his only aim is to have it done according to the letter of the Reconstruction Acts, and the furor created by his course only tends to support the idea that the Radicals were insincere in tendering to the South this plan of Reconstruction, with the view of complicating it, by the action of the Commanders. If Mr. Stanbery is correct as a lawyer in his interpretation, then it is plain from the muss made over it, than an honest lawyer's interpretation does not suit the Radicals.

THE SOUTHERN OPINION.—This long promised weekly has at length appeared.—Its first number was issued on the 15th inst., in Richmond, Va., by H. Rives Pollard, Esq., and the editor honors us with a copy of his first and solicits an exchange.—"The Southern Opinion," is one of the finest specimens of typographic art in the country; it is thoroughly Southern in its tone; its editorials are written with the vigor characteristic of Mr. Pollard's pen, without the acerbity and sharpness which made the Examiner, under his charge, offensive to some people. It is a large splendid weekly, hence, giving him ample time to prune and improve, what if witten for a daily, might not be so grateful to some ears.

Mr. Pollard has associated with him that fine writer and scholar, Mr. Paul H. Hayne, of South Carolina, who has special charge of the critical and literary department.—The first number is graced with the premium poem awarded to Mr. Hayne, "to the Confederate dead." This first number is a gem in beauty and ability, and we trust that Mr. Pollard will make all its future numbers as beautiful, as able and more and more judicious and useful. We wish him entire success. Address, H. Rives Pollard, Esq., box 331, Richmond, Va., enclosing $4 for one copy a year or $2,50 for six months.

P. S. Since writing the above, we observe that his old associates of the Examiner are engaged upon "The Southern Opinion." Mr. Hanna, late of the Norfolk Virginian has charge of the "home department." Mr. Elam is the news editor, and general colaborator, and Mr. Chesterman has charge of the business department.

PRESIDENT'S VISIT TO BOSTON.

The President left Washington on yesterday morning for Boston. It is intimated that he will have a grand reception in New York, though Philadelphia turns its back upon him. The Legislatures of Connecticut and New Hampshire have both invited him to visit their respected bodies and accept of the hospitalities of the two States.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY STARBUCK.

It is known to the public, that the Grand Jury of the recent Federal Court, presented Mr. Starbuck for perjury, in having taken the "iron-clad test oath." Mr. Starbuck at once made a statement to the Court and asked for the appointment of an attorney to investigate his case. This was granted, and we take pleasure in complying with the request of Mr. Starbuck and in strict justice to him, to spread the following official proceedings in the case before our readers:

Mr. Starbuck, the District Attorney, asks for an investigation of the charges against him.

Please your Honors:

From a deep sense of duty, which I owe to the Court, to my family and myself, I rise to make a motion affecting me as the prosecuting officer of this Court; seriously affecting my character. The Grand Jury has presented me and other gentlemen on the ground that we took the test oath of July, 1862, when we had no right to take it.

The charge against me, is that having been a member of the State Convention which passed the Ordinance of Secession, that I therefore, could not consistently take said oath as District Attorney.

Now, I wish, and intend to meet this charge fairly and squarely, and challenge an investigation. I, therefore, respectfully ask your Honors to appoint some member of the Bar to take charge of the case for the Government. But, before taking my seat, I wish to say in defence of my character, which is dearer to me than life itself, that what I have done, I have done honestly and conscientiously.

These are the facts of the case in regard to this libellous charge. In the month of June or July, 1865, just after the close of the war, I received a letter from a friend in Washington, informing me that the Attorney General had requested him to ask me if I would accept the appointment of United States District Attorney for North Carolina, and whether I could take the test oath, and requesting an immediate answer by telegraph. I had not before thought of the appointment, and then thought so little of it, that I sent him no telegram, and did not even answer his letter until some week or two afterwards.

I then distinctly informed him by letter, that, although I had always been a Union man, as he well knew, yet I had been for a part of the time a member of the Convention which passed the ordinance of Secession, but I was not a member when it was passed, and was utterly opposed to its passage. That this Ordinance was passed on the 20th. of May, 1861, and that I did not become a member of the Convention until February, 1862. That I was elected as a well known Union man, over an opponent entertaining the opposite principles. That, while a candidate before the people, I expressed a desire and hope that the Convention, before it adjourned, would repeal the Ordinance of Secession. I took my seat entertaining these hopes, and did what I could to aid in protecting our people in their civil liberty, and relieving them from the oppressive measures of the war. And I did no act with any hostile intent towards the Union, and never for one moment abandoned my earnest desire for its preservation.

Entertaining these sentiments, which were well known to my acquaintances, I felt that the spirit of the oath did not exclude me, and requested my friend in Washington, to lay these facts before the Attorney General, the Honorable Mr. Speed, and ask his opinion, whether anything I had done excluded me from taking the oath. I received an answer informing me that he had laid these facts before the Attorney General, who gave it as his opinion that there was nothing in the oath to exclude me from taking it. These are the facts of the case.

I received the appointment without any solicitation of mine, with the hope of aiding in the re-establishment of the civil authority of the United States once more in North Carolina. What I have done, has been done honestly and conscientiously, with the approbation of the Attorney General of the United States. And I now respectfully ask that some member of the Bar be appointed to investigate this charge, in order that I may have an opportunity of vindicating my innocence.

D. A. STARBUCK,
U. S. District Attorney.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA,
Circuit Court, June Term, 1867.

In the matter of D. H. Starbuck on filing a presentment; the statement filed by D. H. Starbuck asking for an investigation is ordered to be entered on the minutes, and the Court appoints the honorable B. F. Moore to make the examination required in the premises.

REPORT OF MR. MOORE.

To the Honorable, the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of North Carolina:

In obedience to the order of this Honorable Court (a copy of which is hereto appended,) I beg leave to submit the following report:

The circumstances which originated this proceeding of the Court in regard to Mr. Starbuck, the District Attorney of this State, is the presentment by the Grand Jury during the present term of the Court of Mr. Starbuck, for perjury in taking the oath of office prescribed by act of Congress, of July 2d, 1862, notwithstanding he had been a member of the Convention of the State, assembled on the 20th. day of May, 1861, commonly known as the "Secession Convention." I am informed and do not doubt the fact that the commission of Mr. Starbuck bears date near the close of August, 1865, and that his name had been previously suggested for the office to the Attorney General of the United States by Mr. B. S. Hedrick, a highly respectable citizen then of the District of Columbia, and for many years previous to the war a citizen of the State of North Carolina: That upon his recommendation the commission of office was issued to Mr. Starbuck, who did not accept the same by taking the oath of office till about the middle of November, 1865. It appears from a letter addressed by Mr. Hedrick to Mr. Starbuck, dated September 30th, 1865, that sometimes theretofore, Mr. Starbuck had written to Mr. Hedrick and desired him to lay his case before the Attorney General of the United States, and obtain his opinion whether he was qualified for the appointment.

Mr. Hedrick replied by a letter of the aforementioned date. So much of which as relates to the question presented to the Attorney General, is as follows:

"The first letter which you wrote me and in which you stated that you had been a member of the Convention, and had held the office of Clerk and Master in Equity, (to which you were appointed under the lawful State government,) I laid before the Attorney General, and these facts were not regarded as excluding you from office. In fact, what he wanted is men who have been uniformly Union men throughout, and who have not done any act in hostility to the United States."

I am informed by Mr. Hedrick that at the time when Mr. Starbuck was nominated for the office, Mr. Starbuck was not apprised of the fact.

Mr. Starbuck became a member of the Convention about nine months after the ordinance of secession. And it appears that he did not take the oath of office under the act of July, 1862, till after obtaining the advice (through his correspondent) of the Attorney General of the United States.

I submit the foregoing as the result of my examination of the facts in this case; and as the Court were pleased to intimate to me that I should express my opinion of the course proper to be pursued after investigation, I will add, that whatever interpretation in law may be put on the oath of office, of July 2, 1862, I am unable to perceive that Mr. Starbuck was corruptly influenced to take it. He resorted for advice upon the question to the proper fountain and acted in conformity with the opinion given; and were I charged with the prosecution, I should not hesitate to let the matter rest, as well for the good of the public as in justice to Mr. Starbuck.

Respectfully submitted,
June 17th, 1867. B. F. MOORE.

When Mr. Moore concluded reading his report, Hon. Samuel F. Phillips rose and said, he felt it his duty to Mr. Starbuck to say, that during the session of the State Convention in October, 1865, of which Mr. Starbuck was a member, he heard Judge Howard, in a discussion before that body, remark that he had traversed the whole State in his official capacity as Judge, and Mr. Moore of Wake, and Mr. Starbuck, of Forsythe, were the only men he knew, not within the Federal lines, who had, during the whole war, uniformly been consistent Union men.

ORDER OF THE COURT.

The report of Hon. B. F. Moore, relative to the case of the District Attorney for the United States, D. H. Starbuck, Esq., being presented to the Court, is entirely satisfactory, and in all things affirmed. In consideration whereof, it is ordered by the Court now here, that all further proceedings in the matter be dismissed, and that the report be entered upon the minutes.

A true copy of the proceedings in this matter taken from the minutes of the Court.

The Baltimore papers speak of a very valuable milk farm owned by Mr. Ross Winans, of that city. He purchased in 1861 a farm of about 700 acres, along the banks of the Patapsco river, six miles from Baltimore.—His land cost him $50,000; he added buildings at a cost of $20,000; his fencing cost him $3,000, and he manured at an outlay of $67,000—making the total cost of his estate $140,000. During the year ending on 1st of May last his sales of milk amounted to $37,603,71; of cows and calves, in the same period, he sold $11,986 worth, and had fifteen or twenty more animals on hand than at the commencement of the year. He, however, purchased $9,098 worth of cows and heifers during the year. At the close of the year he had on hand 220 tons of hay, and his total product of hay for the year was estimated at 1,800 tons—a great average per acre. His system of manuring tends to build up and nourish his land, and not to impoverish it. His milk is sold to dealers in Baltimore at thirty cents a gallon.—Exchange.

ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS.

OPEN JUNE 1.

This favorite and delightful watering-place, having undergone thorough renovation, is prepared to receive visitors. The owners have made every effort in the outfit and equipment to render the place more than ever attractive to those in quest of recreation, while to the invalid its medicinal waters hold out new hopes of health. It may be confidently claimed for them that they have in a great many cases relieved, and in many more cases cured, the following diseases: SCROFULA, and many chronic CUTANEOUS diseases; CHRONIC THRUSH, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, DROPSY, AFFECTIONS OF KIDNEY and BLADDER, and PILES; and, in connection with the Hot Baths, CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.

As an appetizer, a tonic, and general restorative to an enfeebled constitution, it is perhaps unrivalled amongst mineral waters. The proprietors have engaged for the approaching season

THE SQUARE AND COMPASS.—This Masonic journal which was started upon the demise of the "Key-Stone," by Capt. J. G. Hester, has recently been placed upon a firmer basis, by Capt. Hester's associating with him several prominent and intelligent masons. Rev. J. B. Bobbitt has accepted the editorship, and to promote its literary character, several gentlemen and ladies will be invited to become regular paid contributors. It is published in this city weekly, at $2.50 per annum. Send your cash to J. G. Hester & Co. or to R. W. Best, D. G. M. We wish the publication much success, and cordially extend our editorial congratulations to our Bro. Bobbitt.

WARRENTON FEMALE COLLEGE.—We were in hopes that some of the friends of this institution would send us an account of its late Commencement. The same thing was omitted by the friends of the Louisburg Female College. We regret this, as it affords us pleasure to notice every educational movement in the State. We learn that the commencements at both institutions were highly interesting, and that their prospects for the next session are highly encouraging.

LARGE INCREASE.—It is said that the Board of Aldermen at Newbern granted license to 13 inn-keepers at its first meeting after the official publication of Gen. Sickles' order No. 32. Just as we expected. Liquor, men who love it, will have it, if they are obliged to run through a brush heap on fire to get it.

PUMPS.—We observe that B. L. Perry, jr. Esq., agent for Messrs. Mitchell, Allen & Co., is putting down the new pumps in Wilmington. We hope in a few days to have the trial made here.

GENERAL ITEMS.

Mr. Glass, of the Lynchburg Republican, who was waylaid and shot some days ago, by a couple of ruffians, for a legitimate allusion to their father in his paper, is now improving and is said to be in a fair way to recover.

The University of Virginia, last session, had 450 students on its rolls. Of these 150 were members of the Young Men's Christian Association; Presbyterians 40; Episcopalians 38; Methodists 27; Baptists 26; Disciples 5; unknown 14.

The Petersburg Express thinks that the best capital to begin life with, is a capital wife. "Them's" our sentiments, if a fellow is worth a wife.

The Petersburg Express stands alone, we believe, in urging the people of Virginia not to register.

WE are pleased to learn, from the Western Sentinel, that Hon. R. C. Puryear is gradually recovering from the stroke of paralysis which recently prostrated him.

Rev. Mr. Williams, of Suffolk, Va., recently indicted in New York on a charge of picking a woman's pocket, has been acquitted, the evidence against him being deemed unreliable and insufficient to convict. The friends of Mr. W. and of religion will be glad to hear this.

The trial of John H. Surratt begun in Washington the present week. The prosecution has proved by one witness that he saw Surratt in Washington on the day of the assassination. His counsel, it is said, are certain of proving an alibi.

A carnival of blood, says the N. Y. Herald, has been chronicled by that paper the three first days of the present week. It noticed 30 murders and murderous assaults and five or six suicides. In Cincinnati, alone, three suicides and two murders occurred.—The South, we are glad to see, takes but little part in the carnival.

For the Sentinel.

COL. D. M. CARTER.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The course of few of our public men has been more criticised than that of Col. Carter. In my opinion injustice has been done him.

I do not approve of the course of Col. C., in some particulars. He has been hurried by an impetuous temper, irritated by harsh and galling attacks by a portion of the public press, into expressions correspondingly harsh and action sometimes ill-advised.

But I know Col. C. well, and cannot, I think, be mistaken in saying that, at heart, he desires and strives for the best interests of North Carolina.

He is not in favor of Brownlowizing the State. He is opposed to further disfranchisement. He abhors the doctrine of confiscation.

It is time, Messrs. Editors, that we should exercise charity in our judgment of public men. Even if their views of what is the best plan of saving the State from further disasters differ from ours, let us not indulge in harsh criticism of their conduct, unless it is evident that they are willing to ruin the State for their own mean and selfish ends.

The great danger we have to dread is "Brownlowism," in other words putting the right of suffrage and of holding office exclusively, in the hands of a few, falsely claiming to be better than their neighbors.

The most terrible evils would necessarily flow from this. Let him who desires to foresee the horrors of suddenly giving political power to a class without education or property, at the same time disfranchising those possessed of intelligence and wealth, read the history of the French Revolution. Those who favor this should be politically abhorred. They are our enemies. Such a government Ashley and Boutwell, Stevens and Forney would put over us.

But I do not understand Col. Carter to desire this; nor Capt. Settle, nor Judge Dick. We know Marshal Goodloe and Prof. Hedrick, and Mr. H. H. Helper and Col. Cilley do not. Hence our feelings towards the latter are kind. Why should we endeavor, by denunciation, to drive the former into the ranks of our enemies?

It does not take a very wise man to foresee that soon those in favor of confiscation and disfranchisement will be on one side.—Those opposed to these measures will be on the other. There can be no middle ground. Take my word for it, when the line is drawn, Col. Carter will use his great talents in behalf of the right.

CHARITY.

[We admire exceedingly the temper of our correspondent, and we know he fully understands whereof he speaks, yet it cannot be otherwise than that all men will be judged of by the company they keep.—None would rejoice more than we would, to see the true men of North Carolina, whatever may have been the former minor differences among them, arranging themselves under one platform to promote the perpetuity of the Union of the States under the Constitution, burying the past, and uniting as one man to promote the material, moral and political interests and harmony of the people of North Carolina.]—Eds. Sentinel.

MAXIMILIAN—MEXICO.

The case of this unfortunate man continues to excite considerable interest. The news from Mexico is so contradictory and muddy, no one can tell what will become of him. It is reported in some quarters that he was tried and condemned on the 1st. instant, with Miramon and Mejia, and that he had been shot. Other accounts say that he would be tried on the 4th, and was denied the counsel he desired. Others think he will be condemned but banished from the country, and others that he will be held for European redemption at a high price. Marquez still holds the city of Mexico and threatens Juarez with retaliation if Maximilian is harmed. He governs the Empire, what is left of it, by appointment of Maximilian.

In the meantime, Juarez has two competitors, in Ortega and Santa Anna, for the ruler of Mexico. Santa Anna had arrived or was on his way to Mexico. One account says he had arrived at some point and had been captured.

ACTION OF THE EXECUTIVE IN THE SOUTHERN COMPLICATIONS.

It seems to be settled definitely that instructions will at once be sent to the several military commanders at the South, requiring them to conform their action in reference to the registration and qualifications of voters to the views expressed in the two opinions of the Attorney General recently submitted to the President and Cabinet, and approved by them. The determination upon this point, and its partial development, probably gave rise to the confident tone indulged by Washington correspondents of the Northern press as to immediate and thorough action in respect to other points embraced in the opinion of the Attorney General, published by us on Monday. Doubtless, however, a correspondence will speedily be opened with the Generals who have usurped the power of removing civil State officers at the South, and appointing others; and when the facts in each case shall have been obtained and considered, a remedy suited to the particular wrong will be sternly applied. It is very evident that no general rule could be adopted in reference to replacing the deposed officers. While the removals, in the maner they were effected, were all obviously illegal and wrong, the matter might assume a new phase when the question of replacing a particularly obnoxious person in important posts came up for Executive consideration.—National Intelligencer.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

FELLOWSHIP LODGE, No. 84. A. Y. M.
SMITHFIELD, N. C. May 11th. 1867.

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Supreme Architect of the Universe to call from the labors of this Lodge, to the Celestial Lodge above our much esteemed and beloved brother COL. WILLIAM H. MORNING, therefore.

Resolved, First: That while we humbly submit to this act of God's Providence in calling our brother from us, yet we deeply deplore the great loss we have sustained, thereby weakening the chain that links us one to another, and though he has been taken away from us we shall ever cherish in fond recollection, the many pleasant moments that we have spent in his company.

Resolved, 2nd. That he was a consistent and faithful member of this Lodge, always ready and willing to perform whatever duty was assigned him and ever ready to promote the happiness and prosperity of his brethren of the Mystic Tie.

Resolved 3rd. That as an individual he was possessed of more than ordinary talents and information, and we always admired him for his candor and honesty of purpose, thereby commanding the respect of all persons, and that not only has our fraternity lost an able member, but the community has lost and good a useful citizen.

Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

The Largest Life Insurance Company in the World!

THE SENTINEL.

SATURDAY, JUNE 22, 1867.

GONE.

Two little white arms folded
 Over the quiet breast—
Two little blue eyes sleeping
 In an eternal rest.

One little heart that loved us,
 Silent forever and aye,
And the heavy clouds of sorrow
 Are darkening our way.

Two little feet aweary
 Of all this toil and strife,
Joining the ranks of their Captain
 In the march of a higher life.

One angel spirit wandering
 Over the brighter shore,
And only the casket left us
 To sadden us the more.

One infant anthem blending
 With the nightly choirs above;
One little new harp swelling
 In the harmony of love.

One more to wait there for us,
 And meet us when we go,
Leaving this world of darkness—
 This world of sin and woe.

O, Christ our God and Saviour!
 We thank Thee for the Word,
That of children—little children,
 Is the Kingdom of the Lord.

Horrors of a Mummy Pit.—A young Philadelphian, traveling in Egypt, writes to the Inquirer, of that city, that he was recently let down into a cavern used as a sepulcher for mummies. He says:

Imagine a vaulted chamber about twenty-five feet square. Away down in the very heart of this granite rock, dimly lighted by our two flickering tapers, filled almost to the roof, was a countless piled-up mass of uncoffined mummies. There they lay in all shapes and postures. Time had burst the twining ligaments of some, and their bony arms and fleshless fingers seemed struggling up from the mass, as if to lay hold of the disturbers of their slumbers. Some were placed upright against the wall, and, in the weird shadows thrown by the candle's light, their features twitched and moved, and their long sealed lips seemed opening to denounce us. The Arab drew a long knife from the sheath on his arm, and commenced cutting and tearing off the wrappings in search of scarabæno; and, as his naked limbs sank among the dry bones, and his swarthy arms tossed about the bodies, he looked like some hideous vampire at his nightly meal.

The air was very bad; and I was about to beat a retreat, when suddenly a thought flashed across my mind that almost froze my blood with horror. I am not a coward, but for a moment my heart stood still. The cave was filled with a thousand mummies, drier than the dryest tinder, and soaked in bitumen, each one wrapped in many folds of mummy cloth, as inflammable as gun cotton. A single spark from one of the candles would have spread like wildfire, and no power upon earth could have saved us from a fearful death; we would have been roasted alive in five minutes. I remarked this to Harry; he saw it instantly, and yelled to the guide to be careful of the lights, while I started for the opening. On I went, through the narrow passage, tearing knees and garments against the sharp stones, shudderingly expecting each moment to lay my hand upon the slimy coils of a serpent in the dark, and every now and then sticking fast, and feeling (in imagination) the scorching breath of the fire-fiend on my back. At last I reached the hole and was drawn up, very glad to breathe the pure air and feel the warm sun again.

A DEAF REBEL.

The New Orleans Picayune has the following:

"They had down in Florida, not long since, and perhaps have now, a shrewd old fellow known as "Old Hunter." Everybody knew him. He was as deaf as a post, and through his deafness and his shrewdness he managed completely to hide his sympathy for either party during the war. It was suspected, however, that he was with the Confederates in heart, and that though his house was guarded by the Union troops, he sold as many supplies to one as to the other, for he dealt in "stores." Every means had been tried by the Union officers to procure some admission of preference, but of no avail. When reduced to a corner, he never lacked an expedient to get himself out. But one day a Union captain put up a bet that he could tap him and get his secret. He accordingly went up to Hunter's and skirmished but not one hint could he get. He would be deaf to questions that were unpleasant, and the inquirer was baffled. At last there came two large bull dogs into his store—fierce fellows, and exactly alike.

"Fine dogs, these," yelled the inquisitor in his ear.

"Yes," was the reply.

"What are their names?" in the same loud tone.

"Why," said the old man, "I call one Beauregard and t'other McClellan."

"You do!" shouted the inquirer; "which one do you like best?"

"Hey?" queried Hunter, putting down his ear.

"Which do you like?" was repeated.

"Oh, wall," said he, with a twinkle in his eye, "both of 'em are as ugly as the devil."

The captain paid the bet.

On another occasion a party was drinking in his store, when one of them, taking advantage of the old man's deafness, proposed a toast:

"Here's to old Hunter, the two sided old villian; may he be kicked to death by mules, and his body be sunk in the sea a hundred fathoms deep. May no prayer be said over him, and his blind soul wander rayless through all eternity."

The toast was drunk in great glee, in which the old man joined.

"The same to yourselves, gentlemen," said he, "the same to yourselves."

Of course he had not heard a word that was said.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 32.

Headquarters, 2nd Military District,
Charleston, May 30.

General Orders No. 32.

1. Any citizen, a qualified voter according to the requirements of the Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2nd, 1867, and the act supplemental thereto, passed March 23rd. 1867, is eligible to office in the Provisional government of North and South Carolina. All persons appointed to office will be required to take the oath prescribed by the act aforesaid and to file the same duly subscribed and sworn with the Post Commander.

2. All citizens assessed for taxes, and who shall have paid taxes for the current year, are qualified to serve as jurors. It shall be the duty of the proper civil officers, charged with providing lists of jurors, to proceed within their several jurisdictions, without delay, and ascertain the names of all qualified persons, and place them on the jury lists, and from such revised lists all jurors shall be hereafter summoned, and drawn in the manner required by law.

3. All citizens are eligible to follow any licensed calling, employment or avocation, subject to such impartial regulations as may be prescribed by municipal or other competent authority, not inconsistent with common rights and the Constitution and laws of the United States. The bond required as security shall not exceed the penal sum of one hundred dollars. One or more sureties being citizens and worth, in the aggregate, double the amount of the bond, over and above just debts, will be sufficient.

4. The Mayors of cities and other municipal and town officers, and all Sheriffs, Magistrates and Police officers, are required to be vigilant and efficient in maintaining order, and in the discharge of their duties. They will be expected to co-operate with the military authorities.

5. Post commanders may summon to their aid, whenever the ordinary means at their disposal shall not be sufficient to execute their orders, such of the civil officers, and as many of the citizens, within the territorial limits of the military post, as may be necessary, and the neglect or refusal of any person to aid and assist in the execution of the orders of the Commanding officer will be deemed a misdemeanor, punishable by such fine and imprisonment as may be imposed by a military tribunal approved by the Commanding General.

6. No license for the sale of intoxicating liquors in quantities less than one gallon or to be drank on the premises shall be granted to any person other than an Inn-keeper. The number of such licenses shall be determined, and the fees to be charged for each license shall be prescribed and collected, by the municipal or town authorities and appropriated exclusively for the benefit of the poor. If any person shall be found drunk on the premises where liquor is sold, the license may be revoked by any magistrate. The tax imposed by the Internal Revenue laws of the United States is an additional charge and does not excuse the person from the observance of local regulations, nor exempt him from the payment of such other license fees as may be imposed by the municipal or other competent authorities.

7. All contracts hereafter made for the manufacture, sale or transportation, storage or insurance of intoxicating liquors shall within this military district be deemed and treated as against public policy, and no civil action, suit or proceedings for the enforcement of any such contract shall be entertained in any court.

8. In public conveyances on railroads, highways, streets or navigable waters, no discrimination because of color or caste shall be made, and the common rights of all citizens therein shall be recognized and respected. The violation of this regulation will be deemed a misdemeanor and render the offender liable to arrest and trial by a Military tribunal to be designated by the commanding General, besides such damages as the injured party may sue for and recover in the civil Courts.

9. The remedy by distress for rent is abolished. Where lands are leased, or let out for hire or rent, cotton, corn or other produce of the same, when severed from the land, may be impounded, but the same shall not be removed. Any cotton, corn or other produce so impounded shall be held as security for the rent or hire so claimed and may be sold in satisfaction of any judgment for the same, Provided, that any unsatisfied claim for labor bestowed upon the cultivation of such cotton, corn, or other produce, shall, in no case, be postponed to any demand for rent or hire. But to the extent of such claim for labor there shall be a lien on such cotton, corn and other produce having preference over any claim for rent or hire.

MAJ. GEN. SICKLES,
J. W. Clous, A. A. A. G.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

Whereas, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowlege and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2 186, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registrtion will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for ——months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God." Which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each, representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5. That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

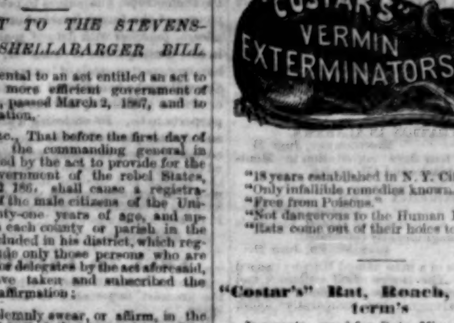

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."
